Council OK's four-year term amendment wording

The Romulus City Council has approved the wording on a proposed amendment to the city charter which will allow for four-year terms for the mayor, clerk and treasurer.

Council members will have "staggered terms, meaning that in the next election, to be held in 1985, the top four voters will serve four-year terms, with the remaining three having two-year terms. In subsequent elections, all council electees will serve four-year terms. The purpose of the staggered term is to "keep some continuity in the administration at all times," according to Councilman Jimmie Raspberry.

There could be no possibility of an entire administration and council coming in new, with no one experienced held over.

"The council has approved it, but there's still a ways to go with it before it can be put on the November ballot," said Mayor Beverly McAnally. "First, it has to be approved by the Attorney General, then the Governor, and then the Wayne County election bureau."

McAnally added that the proposal has been "in Lansing for two weeks now." Council members have stated that they feel there will be no trouble along the way, and that the proposed amendment will be put to the Romulus voters come November.

Council members Raspberry and Barry Bauman, as well as McAnally, said that they have been asked about the possibility of four-year terms, indicating that the constituents are in favor of such action.

Similar proposals have been voted down in the past in Romulus, but Bauman said that "We've grown up, matured as a city and I think the people know that."

Other proposed amendments to the charter that are likely to be on the ballot concern raising payment to members of boards and commissions from $50 to "... to a discretionary amount to be set and approved by Council," one which would change the day primary elections are currently held on (Tuesday) to Mondays, as are other elections.

"Some people get so used to voting on Mondays that the Tuesday primary slips their mind," McAnally stated.

Another proposed amendment, which voters will cast their ballots for come November, will enable the administration to make purchases up to $2,500 without going out for competitive bids. The current amount allows for $750 to be spent before going for bids.

In protest

There may be some changes at the Birch Run Co-operative Apartment complex in Romulus. At a special vote last Thursday, residents voted by 62 percent to recall the present board of directors and, at the same time, elected a new board. So far, the present five-person board, headed by president Robert Walker, has refused to step down or even recognize the action. According to Nathaniel Darkins, a spokesperson for the newly-elected board, said the next step "is in the hands of our attorney." Walker was unavailable for comment. The controversy is a result of gas meters being installed without a vote of the people, which means that although the lease agreement may specify that gas and other utilities are included in the rental fee, it will now have to be paid by the residents.

Self-reliance

Project proves to be successful

Wayne County Executive William Lucas was in town recently to congratulate 30 self-motivated graduates enrolled in Wayne County's Project Self-Reliance. The ceremony took place at Beverly School in Romulus.

Project Self-Reliance is, according to spokeswoman Pat Urban, a state-funded program aimed at reducing the welfare rolls by placing General Assistance and ADC recipients into non-subsidized jobs.

"It's to help people find meaningful employment," she that it's just laziness," said Doug Ross, the director of the state-wide program, "but we're proving those skeptics wrong. During the few weeks applications were being accepted for the 7,000 openings, we received more than 20,000 of them."

Those in the program received no payment for their two-week orientation period, and are now being paid minimum wage, $3.35 and hour during their job placements. They'll stay in these jobs, learning and training as they go along, until hopefully,

"It's much easier to get a job when you've already got one, as compared to being unemployed," she added.

The job placements will stay in effect until other work is found, or until Jan. 31, 1985, when the funding for the program is scheduled to end.

The two-week orientation emphasized growth in areas of positive motivation, effective communication, resume writing and communication skills.

"We intend to do everything we can to help you," Lucas told the crowd, "and remember, it is you people who are the nucleus of this program. If you take it seriously, if you make it a success, then you will be held up as an example to show that this type of thing can work and work well."

Lucas added that "the entire community will benefit from the skills and talents which are being contributed through this program."

"A lot of people think people would rather sit around and collect welfare rather than work, that it's just laziness."

said.

According to those running the program, it's a smashing success so far.

"A lot of people think that people would rather sit around and collect welfare than work, another non-subsidized job opportunity comes along.

According to Urban, many of the participants are making less money than they were collecting welfare, but now they are more employable.

Getting ready

Block farm makes history

The Fred Block family recently received notice that they were named as a Centennial Farm by the Michigan History Division of the Department of State.

A Centennial Farm is a Michigan farm which has been owned and operated by the same family for more than 100 years. Through this program the Michigan History Division emphasizes the important contributions which farmers have made to the economic, cultural and social advancement of Michigan.

The Block Farm was purchased by Caroline and August Block on Feb. 10, 1883. Family history shows that the house was on the property at the time. Their son John Block married Augusta Muck. They reared a family of six children — Fred, Charles, Albert, Jesse, John and Ernie. John and his wife, Augusta, were the second generation to operate the farm.

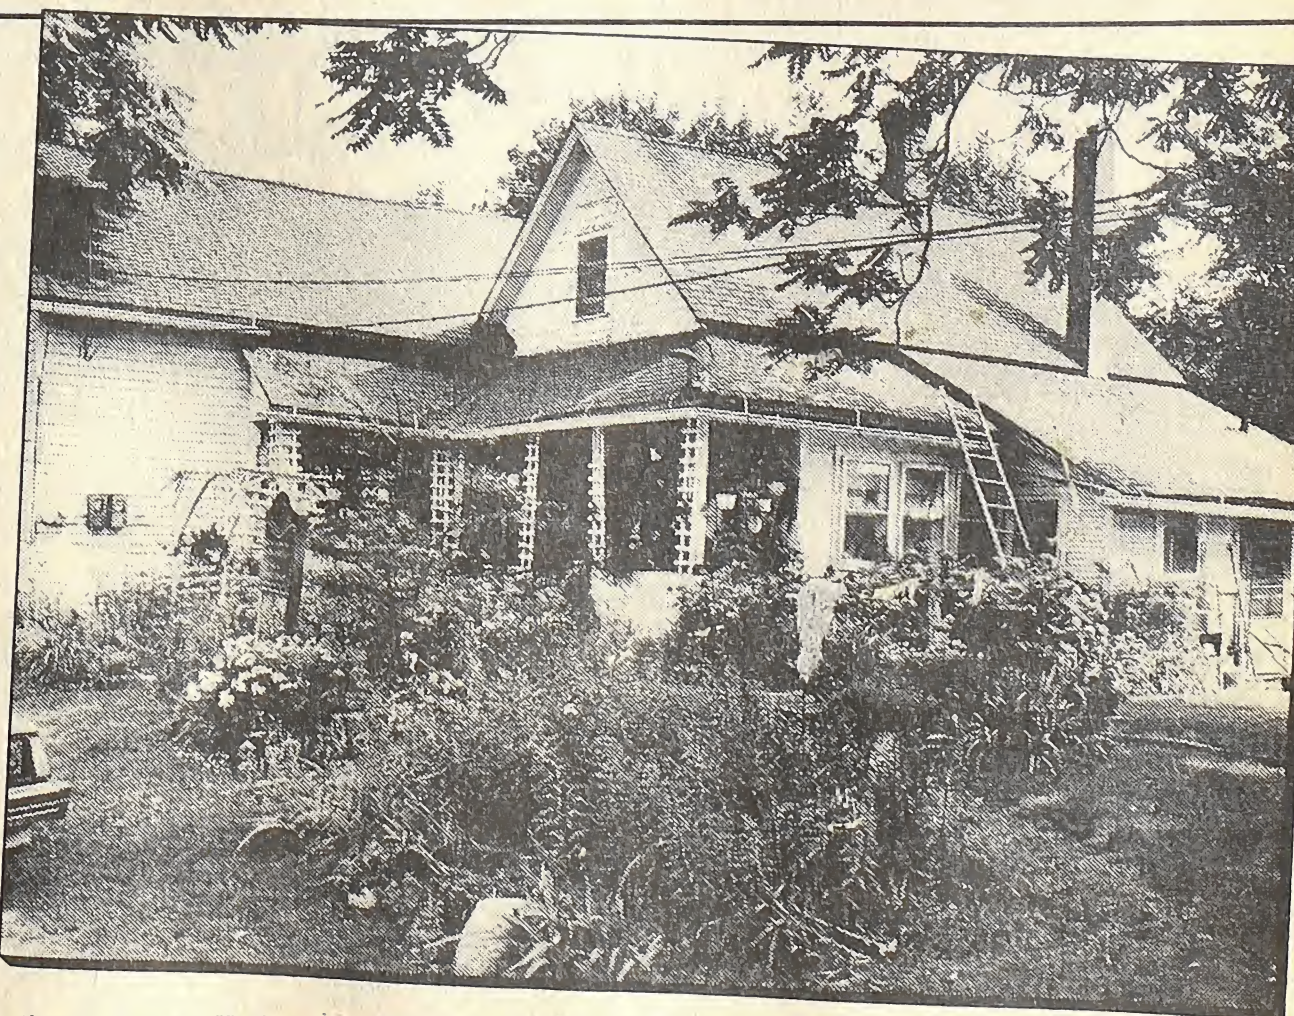

Fred Block married Mina Eberlien on June 12, 1920. Mina was born and raised in Taylor with nine brothers and sisters. Soon after their marriage they began to operate the farm.

They moved the old Texas School to the corner of Middlebelt and Eureka and began using it as a general store, soda fountain and gas station. The late Fred Block raised milk cows, chickens and vegetables. He farmed 40 acres of land and took his produce to market. The area was known as Block's Corner.

Fred and Mina Block had three children — Earl, Fred Junior and Joyce. Earl, Joyce and her husband operated the general store, then called Cox General Store, for about 10 years. In 1961 Joyce and her husband, William Stears, built Stears Hardware. This is still operated by their family today.

Earl Block operated Earl's Market near the same corner for a good many years. He died in 1979.

Junior Block and his wife, Lorraine, have operated Block's Implement for more than 31 years. He has served on the Romulus City Council since Romulus became a city in 1970.

Earl and Janet have three children — Margorie, Thomas and Robert Junior and Lorraine reared five children — Robin, Cynthia, Brian, Suzanne and Stuart. Joyce and William had four children — Kathleen, Sally, Peggy and Bill Junior.

Mina Block recently received the Centennial Farm Sign, which was donated by the Detroit Edison Company. She will display it on the lawn of the original homestead.

Stimach honored

Barbara Stimach of Belleville was honored as one of the top achievers in the approximately 194,000-member Mary Kay Cosmetics independent sales force during special awards ceremonies at the Dallas Convention Center.

Stimach was named one of the top sales directors in Mary Kay for leading her sales unit of independent beauty consultants to exceed retail sales of $250,000 during the previous year.

For her achievement she was awarded a engraved plaque displaying her unit's retail achievement.

Stimach attended one of four consecutive three-day meetings which are necessary to accommodate the approximately 30,000 independent businesswomen who gathered for education, recognition and motivation.

Stimach joined Mary Kay Cosmetics as a beauty consultant in April 1975.

Death traps

Heat and careless owners can make summer miserable for dogs and cats ... as well as make it deadly.

Despite repeated warnings, careless owners continue to take their pets with them on shopping trips or visits, leaving the pet in the car while they shop. Temperatures inside the car, even with the windows cracked slightly, can rapidly reach unbearable levels. The superheated air in the car can interfere with a pet's normal cooling process, evaporation through panting.

Don't take a chance with your pet's life. Never leave him in a parked car or transport him in a trunk or closed container.

Other hot weather tips include having a supply of fresh, clean water available for your pet at all times; be certain shade is available for the pet when he is outside; exercise with care during very hot and humid weather; walk a pet in the early morning or evening, when the concrete and asphalt are cooler.

The Michigan Humane Society's Education Department has a limited supply of notice cards available that explain the dangers of leaving a pet in a parked car. To obtain copies, interested persons can write the Michigan Humane Society, Education Department, 7401 Chrysler Drive, Detroit 48211.

Say yes to YES

Youth Exchange Service (YES) has announced that opportunities are still available for American families to host teenage students from Europe, the Orient or Latin America for the 1984-85 school year, starting in the fall.

The 15- to 18-year-old students are carefully screened, have excellent medical insurance and bring their own spending money.

Host families provide a bed and meals, and may claim a $50 tax deduction for each month they host the student.

For further details on hosting a student from one of many countries, contact Youth Exchange Service (YES), World Trade Center, 350 South Figueroa St., Los Angeles, California 90071, or phone 1-800-848-2121.

Thrill of victory...

It may not have been the Los Angeles Olympics, but to the youngsters of New York Street in the vicinity of Eureka and Inkster Road, it seemed even better. A group of neighborhood youngsters decided to hold their own games, utilizing homemade ideas for their world class events. A brick became a hammer throw. An old wheelbarrow wheel became a discus, and a clothes pole became a pole vault. As can be seen, they also had wrestling events. The "Gold Medals," as well as the silver and bronze, were made by cutting out circles of cardboard and wrapping tinfoil around them, tying them with string. "They did it all themselves," said Maureen Savage, one of the adults invited to judge the events. "They went around the neighborhood with leaflets listing the events, times and places. It was just great!" she said. The three winners in the youngest age group (up to age 9) were (pictured, from left) Keith Bainbridge, silver medal; Jason Kirk, gold medal; and Jeff Negron, bronze medal. In the older age group, the medal winners were Earl Savage, Jeff Inch and Sam Farmer. To us here at The Romulus Roman, everyone involved in this neighborhood event deserved a world-class gold medal!

County bumps BFI from its waste plan

A solid waste management plan for Wayne County was approved recently by county commissioners and will be forwarded on to 43 local communities for consideration within the week, according to Commissioner Kay Beard.

Although the original plan included the Browning-Ferris Industries' (BFI) subsidiary, Lyon Development, the commission, lead by Commissioner Milton Mack, objected to the inclusion of the landfill and returned the plan to the Solid Waste Management Committee for its consideration. The committee concurred, and the commissioners supported the plan at its full session 8-1, with Commissioner Stanley Rozycki casting the only dissenting vote. The BFI site was to have been located in Huron Township near the Romulus border and the airport.

The management plan, three years in the developing, operated under Act 641 and is concerned only with Type I (rubbish produced by residents) and Type II, (inert material such as concrete chunks etc.) waste. The plan includes the City Sand Co. with a landfill in Sumpter Township; Waste Management Co. with its landfill located in Canton Township (Woodland Meadows); and Wayne Disposal near the Willow Run Airport. BFI, although having its Lyon Landfill rejected, is included as a hauler of waste for several individual communities and operates a transfer station near Redford.

County solid waste material accumulates at a rate that would fill Tiger Stadium every two weeks and estimates indicate that the county has less than eight years of landfill capacity remaining.

Wayne County commissioners are urging local communities to give prompt consideration to the plan. Once 29 of the county's 43 cities and townships approve the plan, the proposal will be sent to Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR). Director Dr. Ronald Skoogs, who has six months to either approve or deny it.

Once approved the plan will dictate management of the county's waste and disposal for the next 20 years.

Landfill development companies not included will be denied operating permits although construction permits might have been issued earlier by MDNR, according to a spokesman for the County's Planning Commission, one of two agencies designated by the County Commission to prepare the Solid Waste Management Plan. The County Health Department is the second agency involved.

James Collier, attorney for BFI, has threatened to file suit in Circuit Court in an effort to force the plan to include its Lyon site, a site that has been the center of controversy among downriver residents represented by Mack. Mack at a previous meeting asserted that unless the site was removed from the proposed plan at least 15 communities would reject the plan. Any such rejection would mean its takeover by the MDNR, an action that would virtually eliminate any input by local units of government, the commission was told.

A new career

Romulus residents who are interested in resuming their educational careers now have an opportunity to take free classes from the Romulus Adult Education Department, beginning Sept. 17.

Bill Smith, the director of the program, said that more than 75 adults participated in the graduation ceremony last year and at least that many are expected to participate this year. Smith said that "an excellent schedule of classes will be offered at four convenient locations throughout the city."

RESOLUTION TO AMEND THE CITY CHARTER FOR CITY OF ROMULUS

BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Romulus, Michigan, as follows:

1. That said City Council, by a unanimous vote of its members elect, pursuant to the authority granted by Act No. 279 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended, proposes that Section 4.1 of the Charter of the City of Romulus shall be amended to read as follows:

SECTION 4.1 - OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED: AT LARGE

The elective officers of the City shall be
(a) a Mayor (b) a City Clerk (c) a Treasurer, and (d) seven (7) Councilmembers, all of whom shall be elected from the City at large. Commencing at the next General City Election all the officers heretofore enumerated shall be elected on November, 5th 1985 in the following manner:

a) Mayor - The term of the Mayor to be elected at the next General City Election subsequent to the time of submission of this Charter Amendment to the electors shall expire on the 2nd Monday in November, A.D. 1989 at 12:01 p.m. At each election subsequent to the election at which this Charter Amendment is submitted to the electors, the Mayor shall be elected for a term of four (4) years.

b) City Clerk and Treasurer - At the next General City Election, which shall be held on November 5th, 1985, the City Clerk and Treasurer shall be elected. The terms of office of the City Clerk and Treasurer elected at the next General City Election subsequent to the time of submission of this Charter Amendment to the electors shall expire on the 2nd Monday in November, A.D. 1989 at 12:01 p.m. At each election subsequent to the election at which this Charter Amendment is submitted to the electors, the City Clerk and Treasurer shall be elected for a term of four (4) years.

c) Councilmembers - Commencing at the next General City Election, which shall be held on November 5th, A.D. 1985, Seven (7) Councilmembers shall be elected. The four (4) candidates receiving the greatest number of votes shall serve for four (4) year terms, terms to expire on the 2nd Monday in November A.D. 1989 at 12:01 p.m. The three (3) candidates receiving the next greatest number of votes shall serve for two (2) years, terms to expire on the 2nd Monday in November A.D. 1987 at 12:01 p.m.

Thereafter, all Councilmembers shall be elected to four (4) year terms running from the commencement of their respective terms.

At such time as a regular Federal Decennial Census or a Census ordered by the Council shows that the population of the City exceeds 60,000, the number of Councilmembers for the City shall automatically be increased to nine (9), and the added Councilmembers shall be elected at the next Regular City Election following said census in accordance with the provisions of this Charter, and said added Councilmembers shall be compensated the same as the other Councilmembers provided for in this Charter. The additional candidate receiving the greater amount of votes will serve a four (4) year term. The additional candidate receiving the fewer amount of votes necessary for election will serve a two (2) year term. Thereafter, the additional Council seats shall also be four (4) year terms, running from the commencement of their respective terms.

and that part of Section 6.1 of the Charter of the City of Romulus be amended only in so far as it relates to a two year term for Councilmembers, as follows:

SECTION 6.1 - THE COUNCIL: COMPOSITION AND TERM OF OFFICE

The legislative body of the City shall be the City Council, which shall consist of seven (7) members, elected at large, provided, that the members of the Council may be increased to nine (9) members in accordance with the provisions in Section 4.1 of Chapter VI of this Charter.

The provisions of the existing sections of the Charter of the City of Romulus to be altered and abrogated by such proposal, if adopted now reads as follows:

SECTION 4.1 - OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED: AT LARGE

The elective officers of the City shall be (a) a Mayor, (b) a City Clerk, (c) a Treasurer, and (d) seven (7) Councilmembers, all of whom shall be elected from the City at large. All of the said officers heretofore enumerated shall be elected at the same election to which the Charter is submitted to the electors for adoption or rejection.

The terms of all elected officials elected at the time of the submission of this Charter to the electors shall expire on the 2nd Monday in November, A.D. 1973 at 12:01 p.m. at each election after the election at which this Charter is submitted to the electors all elected officials shall be elected for a term of two (2) years. The terms of all elected officials shall commence on the Monday at 12:01 p.m. following their election.

At such times as a regular Federal Decennial Census of a census ordered by the Council shows that the population of the City exceeds 60,000, the number of Councilmembers for the City shall automatically be increased to nine (9) and the added Councilmembers shall be elected at the next regular City Election following said census in accordance with the provisions of this Charter, and said added Councilmembers shall be compensated the same as the other councilmembers provided for in this Charter.

AND SECTION 6.1 THE COUNCIL: COMPOSITION AND TERM OF OFFICE

The legislative body of the City shall be the City Council, which shall consist of seven (7) members, elected at large, provided, that the members of the Council may be increased to nine (9) members in accordance with the provisions in Section 4.1 of Chapter VI of this Charter. The term of office for the Council shall be for the period of two (2) years except that at the election wherein this Charter is submitted to the electors for adoption or rejection the Councilmen shall be elected as provided in Section 4.1 of Chapter IV of this Charter

2. The purpose of the proposed amendment shall be designated on the ballot as follows:
"A City Charter Amendment proposed by the City Council to amend Sections 4.1 and 6.1 by deleting two (2) year terms of office for all elected City officials and changing their terms in office from two (2) years to staggered four (4) year terms, with elections to be held every two (2) years."

3. The City Clerk shall forthwith transmit a copy of the proposed amendment to the Governor of the State of Michigan for his approval, and transmit a copy of the foregoing statement of purpose of such proposed amendment to the Attorney General of the State of Michigan for his approval, as required by law.

4. The proposed Charter Amendment shall be, and the same is hereby ordered to be, submitted to the qualified electors of this City at Special Election to be held in the City on Tuesday the 6th day of November, 1984 and the City Clerk is hereby directed to give notice of the election of registration therefore in the manner prescribed by law and to do all things and to provide all supplies necessary to submit such Charter Amendment to the vote of the electors as required by law.

5. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the following form, to-wit:

Proposed Amendment to Sections 4.1 and 6.1 of the Charter of the City of Romulus to change the terms of office for all elected City officials from (2) years to staggered four (4) year terms. If passed, this Amendment would not affect the current administration, but would commence with the November 1985 General City Election.

A City Charter Amendment proposed by the City Council to amend Sections 4.1 and 6.1 by deleting the two (2) year term of office for all elected City officials and changing their terms in office from two (2) years to staggered four (4) year terms, with elections to be held every two (2) years.

Shall Sections 4.1 and 6.1 of the Charter of the City of Romulus be amended to change the terms of office for all elected City officials from two (2) years, to a staggered four (4) year term at an election to be held every two (2) years?

() Yes

() No

6. The proposed amendment shall be published in full together with the existing Charter provisions altered or abrogated thereby as part of the minutes of the meeting at which time the resolution is adopted.

7. The canvass and determination of the votes on said question shall be made in accordance with the laws of the State of Michigan and the Charter of the City of Romulus.

of which shall exceed Two Thousand Five Hundred ($2,500.00) Dollars until after an opportunity for competitive bidding, and until it has first advertised for sealed proposals in a paper of circulation within the City. The City shall have the right to reject any or all such proposals.

The provision of the existing section of the Charter of the City of Romulus to be altered and abrogated by such proposal, if adopted, now reads as follows:

SECTION 13.2 MATERIAL PURCHASES

No contract shall be entered in to by the City for purchase of any materials, tools, apparatus or any other thing or things, the consideration or cost of which shall exceed Seven Hundred Fifty ($750.00) Dollars until after an opportunity for competitive bidding, and until it has first advertised for sealed proposals in a paper of circulation within the City. The City shall have the right to reject any or all such proposals.

2. The purpose of the proposed amendment shall be designated on the ballot as follows:

"A City Charter Amendment proposed by the City Council to amend Section 13.2 by deleting the Seven Hundred Fifty ($750.00) Dollar minimum bid requirement for competitive bidding in material purchase contracts and changing the minimum bid requirement to Two Thousand Five Hundred ($2,500.00) Dollars. This proposed amendment is necessitated by the increased cost of the competitive bidding process, which often outweighs the contract price under the existing Charter provision."

3. The City Clerk shall forthwith transmit a copy of the proposed amendment to the Governor of the State of Michigan for his approval and transmit a copy of the foregoing statement of purpose of such proposed amendment to the Attorney General of the State of Michigan for his approval, as required by law.

4. The proposed Charter Amendment shall be, and the same is hereby ordered to be, submitted to the qualified electors of this City at Special Election to be held in the City on Tuesday, the 6th day of November, 1984, and the City Clerk is hereby directed to give notice of the election of registration therefor in the manner prescribed by law and to do all things and to provide all supplies necessary to submit such charter amendment to the vote of the electors as required by law.

5. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the following form, to-wit:

Proposed Amendment to Section 13.2 of the Charter of the City of Romulus to change the minimum contract price subject to competitive bidding in material purchasing contracts for the City from Seven Hundred Fifty ($750.00) Dollars to Two Thousand Five Hundred ($2,500.00) Dollars.

A City Charter Amendment proposed by the City Council to amend Section 13.2 by deleting the Seven Hundred Fifty ($750.00) Dollar minimum bid requirement for competitive bidding in material purchase contracts and changing the minimum bid requirement to Two Thousand Five Hundred ($2,500.00) Dollars. This proposed amendment is necessitated by the increased cost of the competitive bidding process, which often outweighs the contract price under the existing Charter provision.

Shall Section 13.2 of the Charter of the City of Romulus be amended to change the minimum contract price subject to competitive bidding in material purchasing contracts for the City from Seven Hundred Fifty ($750.00) Dollars to Two Thousand Five Hundred ($2,500.00) Dollars?

() Yes
() No

6. The proposed amendment shall be published in full together with the existing Charter provision altered or abrogated thereby as part of the minutes of the meeting at which time the resolution is adopted.

7. The canvass and determination of the votes on said question shall be made in accordance with the laws of the State of Michigan and the Charter of the City of Romulus.

The good, the bad and the ugly: It's all news

In recent weeks we here at The Romulus Roman, a branch of Associated Newspapers, have been deluged with calls and letters, both negative and positive, regarding the way the newspaper has covered the city of Romulus lately.

We think that's great. Yes, even negative responses are favorable, because that way we know we're getting your attention, getting you to think and possibly act on activities in the community.

There have been, however, certain calls to the newspaper that are discouraging. Even more discouraging is the fact that we first heard it from Mayor Beverly McAnally, commenting on our coverage of the feud that erupted between certain members of the police department and the administration when McAnally appointed John Lewis to the position of Romulus Police Inspector.

She said that articles of that type should not be published in the paper, because it is embarrassing to the community and to her personally. "Airing dirty laundry," it was called.

A few residents of the city phoned our offices the following week, echoing the mayor's remarks.

"What will people think of us, of Romulus, when they look at our paper and see that the mayor doesn't get along with the police chief?" one woman remarked, adding "it makes us look bad."

In essence, these callers said that we should not report the news unless it shows the city in a good light.

These people would have a newspaper full of nothing, but press releases, showing only one side — the bright side — which is not always the realistic point of view.

Our job is not particularly to paint the communities we serve in golden-tinged lights, nor is it to paint it black. Our job is to inform the residents of what's going on in their city, whether or not it looks bad for the mayor, the city council or anyone else connected or living in the city. As the man said: "The facts, just the facts."

We print numerous articles pointing out the good things that go on. They outnumber the negative by far. In recent weeks The Romulus Roman has reported on police commendations, cable television coming to the city, the construction boom Romulus is experiencing due to the success of the Economic Development Corporation, and many other bright spots.

There also have been reports of shouting matches at council meetings, fingers pointed between prominent officials, a bomb scare, a murder and auto-related deaths. Many, it seems would rather not have the latter written about.

"It gives the city a bad name, tarnishes our image," one woman said.

We give our readers more credit than that. We don't feel that the four callers — who all called within two days of one another and said essentially the same thing, good news only — are representative of you, the readers. We believe you would not only like us to report and inform you of actions and politics playing at city hall and elsewhere in the city, but we feel you should demand it of us. We hope you do.

News comes in all shapes and flavors, not all of them pretty. Sometimes good, sometimes bad and often times ugly but always essential.

Alpha and Omega

Irony, in away, that Labor Day is immediately followed by the opening of school. Why ironic? Because Labor Day, at least in my mind, signifies a day of recognition for the industrial work force, and a gesture of symbolic gratitude to our "laborers."

Industrial labor membership tends to be unionized, heavy in manual labor, democratic in politics and of medium income and education. Now some may very well call that stereotyping. Be that as it may, this stereotype is the mind set of many when the industrial labor label is applied to a group. Reuther, Meany, Hoffa, Beiber and many other noted labor leaders never seemed to mind this characterization of their constituency.

Schools reconvening brings to mind students in their quest for knowledge. Today, many jobs seem to be closed to those who have not earned at least a bachelor's degree. Other positions have an entry level requiring a master's degree, and in a select number of positions, you are not considered a serious candidate until you have your doctorate in hand.

Okay, so where is the irony you ask. Consider the world we live in today and that we accept the realities of industrial labor and its importance in the functioning of our economy, let alone the livelihoods such employment provides for industrial families.

The realities I speak of are the factory labor jobs which have historically been repetitive, and in turn, boring and monotonous. Education is the ticket, on the other hand, to more mind-challenging occupations and careers that tend to be more stimulating, varied in nature and more lucrative.

I can blow some big holes in this line of thinking.

For instance, not all labor is industrial in nature, unionized, democratic politically, boring or of medium income or education. Schools as an example involve teachers as well as students. Teaching is labor, is usually unionized, is sometimes boring, and so on.

But, accept for the moment please, the classic representation of Labor Day as the opening of school.

From my days at the Free Press, I can tell you that "blue collar" factory workers are, and have been shrinking in number and "white collar" service jobs are and have been increasing. This has been of particular note in our industry because of the lifestyles of these two groups and the trend toward favoring morning as opposed to evening circulation newspapers.

The popular bestseller "Megatrends" speaks of the shift in our society to service function jobs and away from manufacturing skills. Small business, it would seem, is the job growth provider of the future and is centered in service type occupations.

Still don't get it? (The irony, that is).

Well, its like Alpha and Omega — the beginning and end, or perhaps our past and our future. Youth today does not and should not aspire to obtain dull, routine manual labor job. That statement is not to demean in any way those who feed their families with honest toil and the sweat of their brow. But how many of those on the assembly line at Ford Motor Co., as an example, want their children to seek just such an existence. Not many, I'd wager.

Further, high tech is rapidly changing industrial work to a field that requires greater levels of education and training necessary to design, manage and operate the newly automated tools of production.

It's fitting that we pay homage to the contribution "labor" has made in making America the economic giant it is today, in spite of our economic problems of the past few years.

It's fitting, as well, that we should focus on the promise education of our youth must play in our "tomorrow."

Many of tomorrow's jobs will be in the areas in which facilities such as the Ford VoTech training center are geared to train our youth.

But, in any event, tomorrow's America will be a vastly different country in texture, complexity and composition. There will be

Jones' coverage

To the Editor:

A SINCERE thanks to your staff! And SINCERE congratulations! The folder in the paper on our very own Earl Jones was indeed beautiful. He has made hundreds of Inksterites proud, glad and happy.

The folder was very nice, I will keep it among my keepsakes. My family along with many other families in Inkster, are proud of him and happy for him, we wish all happy days and bright skies for this young man with a God given talent.

Inkster has been put on the national spotlight in a very POSITIVE manner.

In addition, a word regarding the editorial by Mr. Willett (Aug. 1 edition). It was well written and also complimentary to black people everywhere. Thank you again for the positive viewpoint on black people.

Statue success

To the Editor:

Mrs. Huston's 5th grade class at Field School would like to thank the following companies for helping us with our campaign to help save the Statue of Liberty: Lorraine's Doll House, Baker's Square, Burger King, McDonalds, Pizza Hut, Skatin Station, Video Place and Wade Trim Group.

Their generous contributions made it possible for us to have a raffle at school. With the monies that we made from our raffle and other donations, we were able to raise $756.60 for the Statue of Liberty.

We want to thank all of the students, parents, and friends at Field School who helped to make our campaign such a great success.

Appreciates support

To the Editor:

I wish to especially thank The Associated Newspapers and all the people who supported me in the primary election for the position of Van Buren Township clerk.

It gives me the supported feeling needed while continuing the campaigning needed for the November 6th General election.

Balanced budget

To the Editor:

The citizens of Michigan have a major opportunity as they have become the focal point in the effort to balance the federal budget. Congress has not acted, and will not unless forced to by the people. Therefore, I have sponsored the introduction of Senate Joint Resolution E (SJR E) in the Michigan legislature.

A call for a constitutional amendment to require a balanced budget has passed 32 state legislatures, and SJR E is an attempt to make Michigan the 33rd state to issue a call. Article V of the U.S. Constitution says that if two thirds of the states (34) petition Congress, it must call for a constitutional convention to pass a balanced budget amendment to be approved by three fourths of the states (38); or Congress may choose to pass its own amendment for approval of 38 states and avoid a convention.

Why is Michigan crucial? California voters will vote in November on a proposal instructing its legislature to pass the proposal. The Michigan Senate has already passed the resolution in April, 1984. Therefore it all depends on the Michigan House of Representatives; where your representatives' stands on SJR E is crucial to the nation.

Why is a balanced budget crucial? The whole debt structure hangs like a sword of Damocles over our economy. It causes high interest rates, which threaten to squeeze jobs, spending power, our economic recovery, and the debt threatens the banking structure with potential panic or collapse simply from its sheer size. Some projections show an annual deficit by the year 2000 in the trillions of dollars! Already today almost all of each year's deficits simply pay the interest of the debts of the past!

Thomas Jefferson once said, "I place economy among the first and most important virtues and public debt as the greatest of dangers. To pre-

Why would anyone enjoy working for 50 cents an hour? Or persist in the belief that Labor Day must be a day of labor?

Why? Commitment. Floyd Carter is committed to excellence. Whether at home, in the classroom or on the gridiron, he will not fail for lack of effort.

Carter represents all that is good in the teaching profession. School millages are approved because of instructors like Carter. Students reap the educational rewards whenever their teachers know how to go beyond the call of duty. Yes, dedicated teachers can mold character.

As school opens this week we hear and read about contract negotiations between school boards and teacher unions. We'll once again listen to the argument that teachers are over-paid and under-worked. In many cases such feelings are justified; some instructors will never be accused of being workaholics.

Yet it must be noted that many teachers are aware of the responsibility placed in their hands and act accordingly. They don't quit working because the school day is over and their minimal obligation has been met. Education must not be confined to a classroom, it represents a way of life for the true professionals.

Floyd Carter is a teacher and football coach at Wayne Memorial High School, his alma mater. For $2,500 a year he will prepare a squad of 30 young men to compete on the football field beginning Friday night.

Since mid-August he has run a typical Wayne camp: daily staff meeting at 7:30 a.m.; meeting with players, 8:30; practice with pads, 9 to 11;

another meeting at 11; lunch; practice without pads, 1:30 to 2:30; break until more practice from 3:30 to 5:30, and staff meetings from 5:30 until 7:30. Fortunately Carter has the support of an understanding wife, Nancy, who is expecting their third child in March.

Labor Day is not a time of rest if one intends to be a bonafide Wayne Zebra in the season opener.

"I've had one Labor Day off in 13 years," said Carter last week after his squad participated in an evening scrimmage in Northville. "It's all a matter of sacrifice and having everybody working together. My policy is that anyone who misses practice for any reason on Labor Day will not play in the opener. A few years ago two starters didn't show up and they didn't play ... I haven't been tested since."

"We never want to lose a game because the other team is in better shape," Carter explained. "By getting a jump on them we can win a couple games early in the season."

Of course, Carter isn't getting rich by taking such a no-nonsense approach. His wages from football amount to pocket change in relation to the hours of preparation and actual games. But hundreds of Wayne Memorial grads will tell you that the time spent under Carter's direction during the past 13 years has been time well spent.

As the 1984-85 school year gets underway, let's not forget the Floyd Carters of the teaching profession. The band instructors who force students to practice, practice, practice. The history and English instructors who try to make the mundane interesting. The counselors whose influence can make or break a youngster. The veteran teachers who aren't afraid to change when change is warranted.

As one teacher put it, the scouting report on Carter would read: "a genuine nice guy and one of the busiest teachers in the area."

To all the truly "busy" teachers, a sincere thank you.

TV or not TV...

"I go to the theatre to be entertained ... I don't want to see rape, sodomy, and drug addiction. I can get all of that at home."

— a Roger Law cartoon caption

And now, thanks to the miracle of cable television, so can you.

With the turn-ons taking place in Westland and Romulus the past few weeks, nearly all of the communities serviced by The Associated Newspapers have cable TV. As one who has been spoiled by cable for nearly four years, I feel inclined to share some of the stranger things you new subscribers can look forward to.

Forget about first-run movies with scantily-clad nubile running around everywhere. Don't think about having 24-hour news stations at the beck and call of your remote control. Don't even anticipate the wonders of watching Regis Philbin prance around on the Health Care Network or Tip O'Neil scowling at the Republicans, live from Washington on C-Span. There's something even better ...

It's called "local origination," and what it is is people producing their own television shows. It's funny in the same sense that real bad monster movies are — unintentionally.

At a recent convention held appropriately enough, in Boise, Idaho, I had a chance to sample local shows — and upcoming local shows — from all over the United States. Some of them had "blurb" written down, meant to hype and explain the program. A random sampling of the best follows (NOTE — all cable companies may not carry all programs).

You loved him on "People's Court," and now you'll split a gut laughing with the honorable Judge Whopner on "People's Divorce Court," where you, the audience will choose the amount of alimony and who gets the kids. For family or former family fun.

Gary Crosby stars in a special made-for-television movie this fall, "The Man Who Would Be King." With a special "knockout" appearance by Christina Crawford!

Everyone's favorite teen is back this fall as Beaver Cleaver terrorizes Mayfield, killing students and teachers alike in "Beav the Cleave."

It's back and better than ever! Watch "All In the Family," a tragic story of incest in the big city.

"New Improved Family Feud" debuts this fall, only this time it will involve 'Mafia' families, who will be involved in tag-team wrestling matches instead of answering dumb questions.

A new "R" rated version of an old favorite returns to the screen, as Jim Lange hosts "The Mating Game," with questions right out of Kinsey's and Master's and Johnson's, and answers out of "Hustler."

steve o'leary speaking

The FBI-CIA channel, where the phrase "When you least expect it, you're elected, you're the star today," takes on a new meaning (also known as "The New Candid Camera").

Not getting enough sports? Then tune into "Full-Contact Spelling Bee," the new sensation racking up kids at grade schools from coast to coast. Followed by the family favorite, "Women Midget Mud Roller Derby."

From the Nectarine Ballroom in Ann Arbor, watch the weekly event drawing crowds all the way from Ypsilanti, "Wet Down-Vest Contest (for Girls)." (tentative)

"Bowling for Donuts," featuring different area police departments competing against each other.

"The Debating Hour," designed to appeal to the crowd that only admits to watching "educational television." Questions for the first two shows are: "Is 'Razzles' a candy or a gum?" and "Would the Pepsi taste test hold up in court?"

Ralph Nader's new show will, of course, give consumers tips on buying the right products, as well as informing the public of some of the scandals plaguing industry. I viewed a couple shows, including one where the rumor that General Foods was behind a kiddie-porn ring was put to rest. A witness claiming it was true contended the phrase "Tricks are for kids" was a double-entendre.

In the same mold as "Taxi" comes "Bus," the adventures of a bus driver who always gets fat, smelly people sitting right next to him.

Forget your MTV, now there's "GTV!" Yep, Geek TV is coming this fall. An Aaron Spelling Production.

"Reader's Digest Condensed Movies" is here, cramming the big hits into short, snappy quickies. Some of the first include "Quest For Fire," only this time the tribe finds a Bic lighter right outside their campsite. "Indiana Jones and the Pimple of Doom," where Harrison Ford battles with his complexion just before a big date, and "Endless Movie," starring Brook Shields, Christian Dior and his friend, Hebrew Herb.

The series that was to have begun last week, "Barnyard Animals and You," has been replaced on the fall schedule by two new shows, "A Man and His Ferns" and "Short Like Me," the latter cohosted by Paul Williams and Mary Lou Retton.

One last word on movies: it was announced last week that the long-lost soundtrack to Mel Brook's "Silent Movie" has been found!

serve our independence we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt ... If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the guise of caring for them, they will be happy." Thomas Jefferson, one of our founders, and author of the Declaration of Independence, would recoil at the sight of the federal monster we face today. He would recoil at the sight of public officials almost oblivious to the massive debt that can hardly be counted or even perceived.

Polls show that the people agree with Thomas Jefferson. Only their leaders do not. Eighty-three percent of the people favor amending the Constitution to require the balanced budget. The people instinctively understand that Thomas Jefferson was right. The founders, for their part, put Article V in the Constitution (to allow states to call for a convention) because they understood it was needed to force a reluctant Congress into action.

That is why the Michigan House must pass Senate Joint Resolution E (SJR E) which calls for a constitutional convention to balance the budget. That is why the Michigan State passed SJR E with bipartisan support on April 18. That is why Michigan citizens must contact their representatives asking them to support SJR E when it comes to a vote in the House this fall.

Michigan has a unique opportunity, and the nation is waiting for our action. Please act today. Thank you kindly.

ED FREDRICKS,
State Senator

Extra effort

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Wayne County 4-H staff, we would like to thank the Associated Newspapers for their continuous support of 4-H. A special thanks to Lothar Konietzko and Valerie Smith-Higgins for their extra effort during our recent 4-H fair. Your interest in our youth program is greatly appreciated.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

VA MEDICAL CENTER, ALLEN PARK, MICHIGAN MODERNIZATION OR REPLACEMENT PROJECT

Notice is hereby given that public hearings will be held by the Veterans Administration at:

6:00 p.m., on Tuesday, September 11, 1984 in the Allen Park Municipal Auditorium, 16850 Southfield Road, Allen Park, Michigan and at:

6:00 p.m., on Wednesday, September 12, 1984 in Room 2043 of Cobo Hall, Detroit, Michigan

Registration will begin at 5:00 p.m. The hearing is for the purpose of allowing the public the opportunity to provide oral and written comments regarding the draft EIS and the environmental consequences of the various alternatives. The format of the hearing will be information gathering in nature and not one of dialogue exchange. Therefore, VA program officials will not be present to answer questions. The public is invited to submit written comments in addition to or in lieu of verbal comments on the draft EIS. Speakers will be called in order of their registration and, depending on the number of speakers, a time limit may be imposed. Speakers are asked to limit their oral presentations to only one of the two hearings.

The Veterans Administration (VA) proposes to modernize or replace the existing VA Medical Center (VAMC) at Allen Park, Michigan. The existing VAMC has major functional and space deficiencies which cannot be corrected in the present facility. The intent of this project will be to correct these deficiencies.

The project alternatives included in the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) are (1) major renovation/reuse with minor new construction at the VAMC Allen Park; (2) major new construction with some renovation at VAMC Allen Park; (3) a phased replacement hospital on the VAMC Allen Park campus; (4) a total replacement VAMC on a site adjacent to the Detroit Medical Center, Detroit, Michigan; (5) the "no action" alternative.

Environmental impacts addressed in the EIS include air quality, water quality, noise, hazardous wastes, traffic, social and economic consequences, and potential effects on historical and archaeological resources.

Signing up

There were some very special guests at the Michigan Paraprofessional Training Institute in Romulus recently, when the likes of Detroit Tigers players present and past, Juan Beringer, Chico Fernandez and Barbero Garbey paid a visit. The 250 students and staffers brought their youngsters in to meet the Tiger greats, who signed autographs and discussed the Tigers' bid for the 1984 pennant.

Business involement makes fair auction a success

How successful was the annual Wayne County 4-H Fair Auction?

According to organizers, it was very successful, thanks to the support of local businesses.

Among the animals sold at the auction, held on Aug. 9, were the grand champion pen of meat rabbits, shown by Derek Robosson of Belleville and purchased by Youtsey Electric of New Boston, which also purchased the reserve grand champion turkey, shown by Tracie Keith of New Boston.

The reserve pen of rabbits, shown by Randy Mercier of New Boston, was purchased by Steve Jelascity of Southgate, while the champion pen of chickens, shown by Rhonda Mason of Belleville, was bought by Jim Shears of New Boston, owner of Jim Shears Standard Service of Taylor.

The reserve champion pen of chickens, shown by Ken Blake of Sumpter Township, was purchased by Garden Fantasy of Belleville, which also purchased the grand champion pen of ducks and geese, shown by Robert and Randie Mercier of New Boston.

The Grand champion turkey was shown by Robert Mercier and purchased by Bart's Nursery of Canton Township, while Mercier's reserve champion geese were bought by George Carpenter of Romulus.

The champion market goat, shown by Louise Konopka of Canton Township, was bought by Ted Bojka of Polish Ponderosa of Sumpter Township, while the reserve market goat, shown by Kathy Boole of Redford, was purchased by Gary Griffiths of Canton Township.

Doug Campbell of Plymouth sold his champion lamb to Ted's Supermarket of Romulus, with his pen of lambs being purchased by the Campbell family.

The reserve grand champion lamb, owned by Scott Fitzgerald of Plymouth, was purchased by Carl Herring of Belleville and Jim Shears of New Boston.

The grand champion individual market swine, shown by Beth Herring of Sumpter Township, was purchased by Bilmar's Supermarket of Romulus. Her grand champion pen of two was purchased by L & M Packing of Monroe.

The reserve grand champion individual swine, shown by Ross Witte II of New Boston, was sold to Jim Shears of New Boston, while the reserve grand champion pen of two, shown by Bea Herring of Sumpter Township, was purchased by the Detroit Drop Die Company of Belleville.

Nursery signups accepted

Carousel Cooperative Nursery still has openings for 3- and 4-year-olds for its afternoon sessions, beginning Sept. 10.

The nursery is located at 11900 Belleville Road in the Belleville United Presbyterian Church.

Carousel Nursery is a member of the Huron Valley Council of Cooperative Nurseries and is a non-denominational, non-discriminatory, non-profit organization. Some parental participation is necessary.

Tuition for the nursery is $18 per month for the two-day class and $25 per month for the three-day class. Classes are held September through May.

For further information contact Claudia Thomas at 697-2840.

The grand champion steer, weighing 1,230 pounds, was purchased by Bilmar's Supermarket of Romulus from Beth Herring of Sumpter Township. The reserve grand champion steer, shown by Tami Rae of New Boston, was sold to Robert Bailey of Belleville.

The remaining 86 animals were purchased at auction through the support of:

ROMULUS — Block Implementations, Leonard Zilka, Romulus Hardware, Noel Hamilton, John and Judy DeTar, George Carpenter, Ted's Supermarket and Bilmar's Supermarket.

HOWELL — Howell Live-stock.

ANN ARBOR — Tony Konopka.

Yes to youth

Detroit Edison puts teen workers on the job

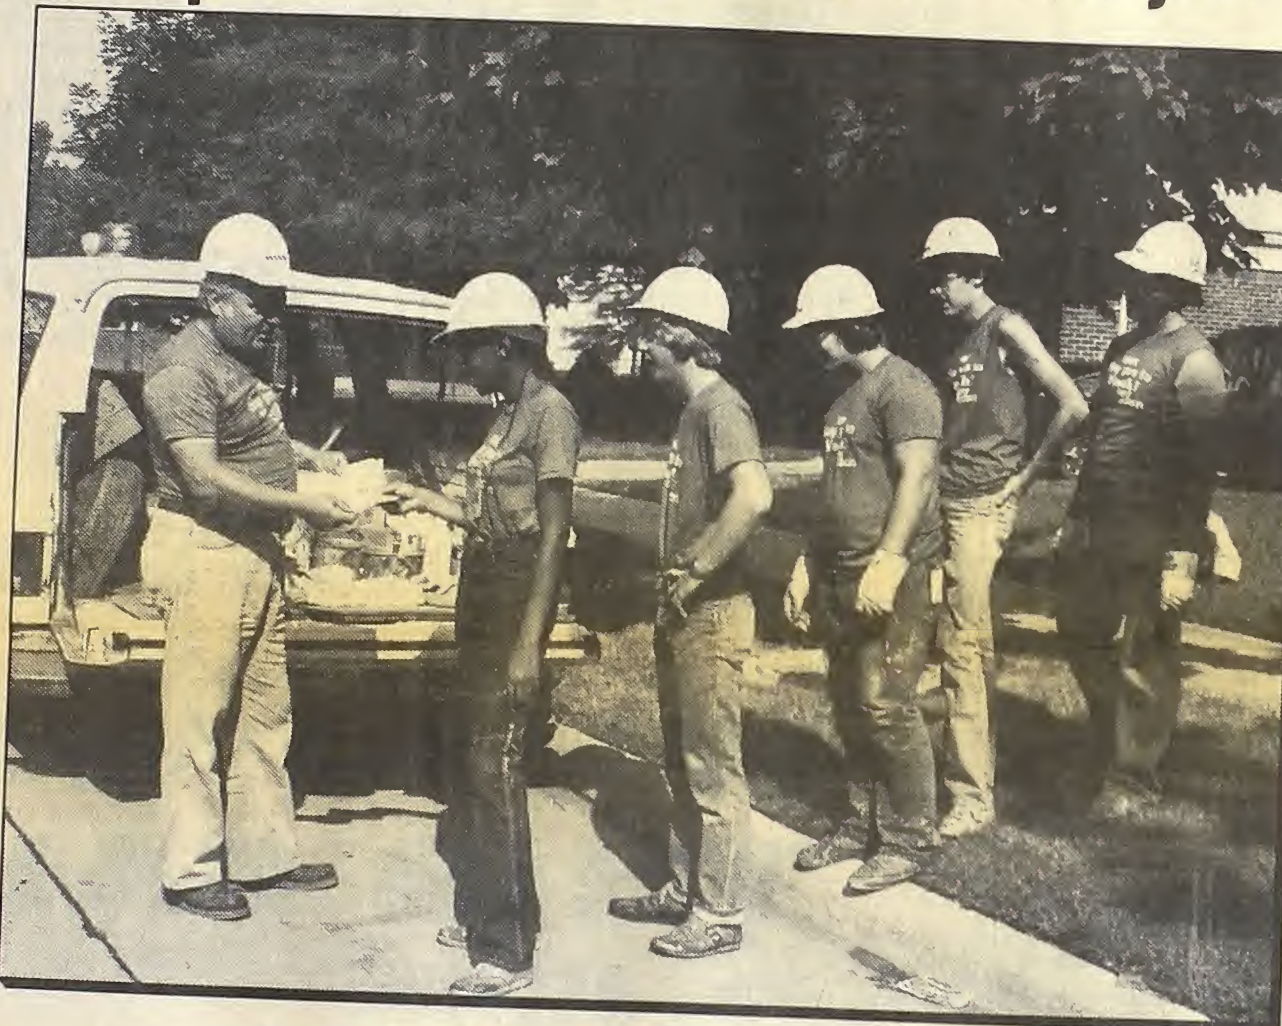

Summer youth employment has always been a problem. There never seem to be enough jobs to go around for all the young people out of school for the summer. The situation seems to be compounded if the youngster's family is in the low-income bracket.

Detroit Edison's "Say Yes To Youth" program has taken steps to help ease the summer youth employment problem. The utility hired 151 young people from throughout its Southeastern Michigan service area to perform essential utility jobs. In Detroit Edison's Wayne/Monroe Division, 17 young people have been hired the third year of the utility's summer employment program.

To be eligible, the young men and women must have met low-income guidelines established by the Michigan Employment Security Commission. The company is paying the young workers the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour to perform such duties as clerical tasks, painting transformers, testing wooden poles and assisting in drafting for planning purposes. None of the assignments are "make work" jobs, however, most of the tasks are seasonal.

The intent of the "Say Yes To Youth" program, according to Detroit Edison, is not only to give first-hand job experience, which would otherwise be unavailable to the young people, but also to help them prepare for future careers by teaching them about job responsibilities.

The program also benefits communities served by Detroit Edison. For example, some of these young people are doing work which might otherwise have been postponed due

Yes to youth

One of the many Detroit Edison "ASay Yes to Youth" crews working in the utility's Wayne/Monroe Division this summer get ready to receive their buckets of paint and brushes from Detroit Edison's Ed Skolarus before sprucing up some light poles in the Western area. Detroit Edison has hired 151 youths for low-income families to perform such community improvement work throughout the company's southeastern Michigan service area.

to Detroit Edison's cost-cutting measures, such as painting street lights to beautify a community. Some of the "Say Yes To Youth" workers are doing community improvement work such as planting trees and cleaning up or repairing city fixtures.

The young workers received training specific to their jobs in addition to job-related safety training and other information related to the workplace in general. They were issued safety equipment where necessary and were instructed on how to work safely in the field and office.

"Say Yes To Youth" is conducted with the assistance of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, which was responsible for recommending the individual youths who are participating in the program.

Ruffles lend a delicate air to the surplice front and short sleeves of this gentle dress, the skirt floats out softly.

Printed Pattern 9031: Misses Sizes 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 12 (bust 34) takes 3 1/8 yards 60-inch fabric.

Shirtdresses turn, into soft dressing tanks to the lucks on the bodice, the easy grace of the skirt. MULTI-SIZE pattern gives 3 sizes on one tissue.

Printed Pattern 9419: Half Sizes (10½, 12½, 14½), (16½, 18½, 20½), (22½, 24½, 26½). Order regular size.

Diamonds ovals, squares and hearts suggest the shape of the butterfly in 6 different 12" blocks to applique and embroider. Pattern 450 tissue pattern pieces for quilted 74" x 88".

Starting over
Preps launch '84 grid season Friday

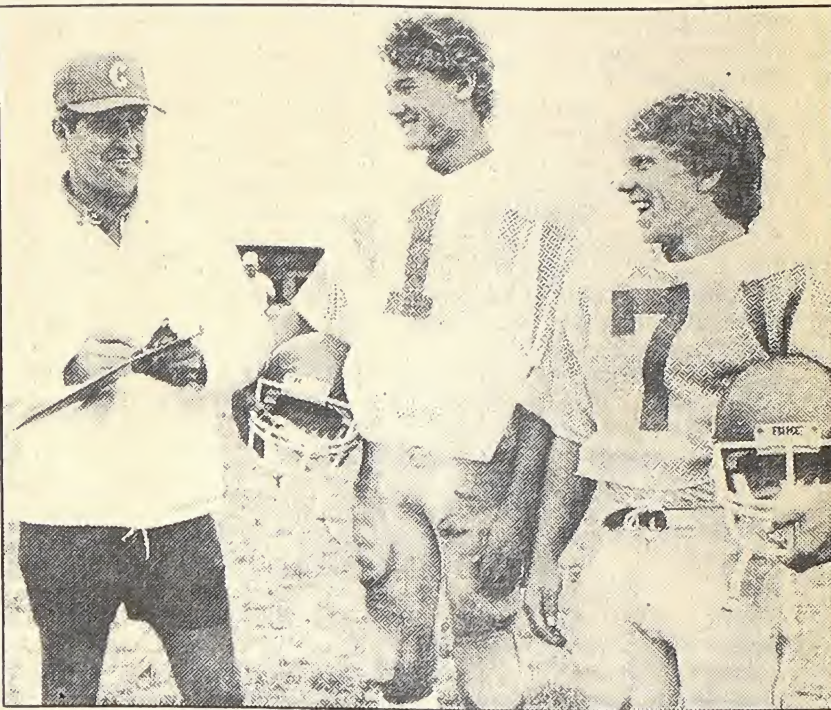

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Amidst the confidence and optimism produced by gruelling training and practice, the 1984 high school football season will get underway Friday night. Unrelentingly, area coaches have whipped their charges into shape for "the first battle", and when the dust settles they will know whether their preseason optimism was justified. The patois they used to answer inquisitive reporters' questions should be understandable when the final whistle blows Friday night. But now the fever is at its heights; the confidence is ubiquitously spread to each and all members of the team. Stratagems will be tested and revised each Friday (or Saturday) for the next nine weeks, coaches and players painstakingly will live and die for that bruising victory. It all begins Friday night for all 12 area teams. As usual, there are some new faces. At Belleville High, Mike Colletta has assumed the responsibility of the athletic directorship and surrendered the head coaching reins to a former assistant, Pete O'Neill. O'Neill has inherited a team that won four of its nine games in the newly-aligned Wolverine "A" Conference. And he'll receive his initial test Friday night at home when Northwest Suburban Conference co-champs, Westland John Glenn, invades the Tiger lair. Neighboring New Boston Huron also has a new coach to guide its football destiny. He's Tom LaBeau, who replaces Jamie Hinojosa.

The Chiefs have been struggling on the gridiron these past few years and LaBeau hopes to bring about a renaissance. Providing Huron and LaBeau the opportunity to start off on the right foot is Cherry Hill, a team that is being rebuilt by a new head coach, Ken Mientkiewicz. Mientkiewicz has served on the staff of former head coach Jerry Pawloski who decided to bow out of coaching. With six regulars back from a team that won three of nine, Mientkiewicz is in dire need of some catalysts to spark the Spartan offensive machine. Huron is the host of the season opener that will begin at 7:30 p.m. When cross-town rival, Livonia Franklin, travels to Churchill Friday night there will be one major opponent the Patriots will not have to be concerned with, Ken Kaestner, the dean of area coaches, has stepped down as the head coach of the Chargers, ending an exciting era. Kaestner is the only head football coach that Churchill has known. His teams and players have been among the best. In Kaestner's place will be Herb Osterland. "Ken is like a legend in these parts and it's going to be difficult to follow in his footsteps," Osterland said. In other Friday night games, Wayne Memorial will take on Garden City at 7:30 p.m., while Romulus travels to Willow Run (7:30 p.m.). Dearborn Heights Robichaud will meet Oak Park at 4 p.m. and Inkster High launches the 1984 campaign 7:30 p.m. at Lincoln Park. Plymouth Salem is at home at North Farmington (7:30 p.m.).

This is it
The long-awaited high school football season gets underway Friday and Coach Rich Barr hopes to turn a 1-8 record around thanks to returning letterwinners Dave Knapp (No. 1) and Matt Flower (7). The Chiefs will travel to Livonia Bentley Friday night for their opener and they run up against a team that will be playing its final season. Bentley is scheduled to close at the end of the current school year.

'Thin' but lethal are Zebras

By DENNIS NIEMIEC

Record-setting quarterback Mike Quartuccio has graduated and will be tossing the pigskin this fall for Saginaw Valley College. Two-way tackle Doug Mac also is gone. Heraldized tight end Pollis Robinson (6-6, 215 pounds) has decided to concentrate on basketball. On the surface it appears that Wayne Memorial will be hard pressed to make a legitimate title run in the rugged Wolverine A Conference. However, the Zebras finished strong after a slow start during a four-way scrimmage last Wednesday against Northville, Lahser and Divine Child, an indication that a grueling training camp may pay dividends. Veteran coach Floyd Carter enters his 13th season with 10 lettermen (six starters) from a 1983 squad that posted a deceptive 4-5 record, which included a two-point loss to Fordson and one-point overtime setback to Monroe, the eventual league champion. Most of the Zebras' experience rests in the offensive backfield and line, which Junior Kwan Hearn (6-0, 195) gets the starting nod at fullback while two seniors will alternate at tailback — Matt Mason (6-1, 180) and Mike Jackson (5-9, 165). Mason is described by Carter as a slashing type of runner with 4.7 speed and Jackson, who has been clocked in 4.6 is credited with having the ability to quickly change direction. Senior Bob McArthur (5-11, 175) will start at quick guard and junior Dave Florn (5-11,

Patriots 'will be better'

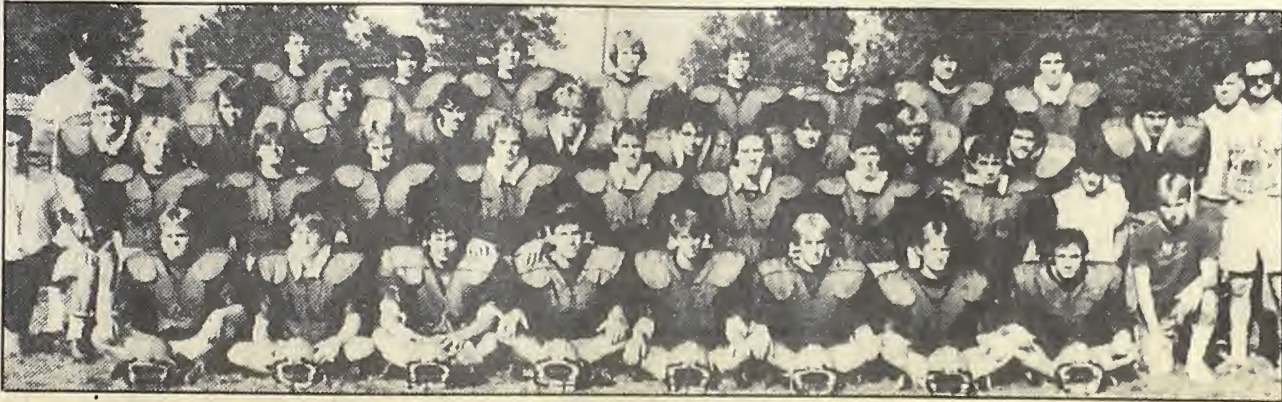

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Armand Vigna has taken over the role of the "dean of area coaches" and the Livonia Franklin grid strategist this year, as the past 27, is "optimistic" about his team.

Vigna inherited the title as "dean" when Ken Kaestner at Livonia Churchill decided not to return to the gridiron this year after nearly three decades of coaching.

"We're going to be better than we were a year ago," Vigna says. "With the experience coming back, this team should also be one of our better defensive teams."

Vigna and his Patriots won the Class A state championship a few years ago, and Franklin always figured in the title race in the tough

Franklin's Patriots

Northwest Suburban Conference. Vigna would like to win the 1984 crown because it is the last of the N-W. The league will disband after the current school year and Franklin, along with league affiliates Westland John Glenn and North Farmington, are scheduled to enter the expanding Western Lakes Conference.

But to claim the title Franklin must take it away from Westland John Glenn (which presently shares the crown with North Farmington) and or Redford Union.

"Glenn is always tough in football and off of what R.U.

has returning from a year ago, they also have to be considered among the contenders," says Vigna. "Although it's too early to tell, I do expect us to be in the middle of the pack."

Vigna begins his 10th year as head coach — his 27th in coaching — against cross-town rival, Livonia Churchill. Churchill will host the 7:30 p.m. Friday non-conference game.

In Friday night's line-up the Patriots will have 20 letter-winners of whom six started a year ago. The notables are split end David DeMay (6-0, 180); Doug Sutter, senior tackle (6-0, 185); Tim McGilvary, offensive guard (6-2, 187); Tim Olszewski, 6-1, 175-pound senior; tailback Joe Karcher, 5-10, 170-pound senior.

One big plus is the return of quarterback David Drabicki, a 5-10, 170-pound senior who can throw well and should provide the leadership to turn around last year's 3-6 record. "Dave can get the job done," Vigna said, "but he still has a lot to learn."

Defense will be Franklin's strong suit as holdovers Jeff McCall, a 6-3, 197-pound end; Pete Sackleh, a 6-0, 180-pound tackle; Sutter, middle linebacker; Jim Gabel, a 5-10, 180-pound linebacker; DeMay and Brad Norris, a 5-8, 184 junior who started as a sophomore, are on hand.

"The experience these players have is definitely an asset. They know the system and know what we are looking for," Vigna said.

Vigna also views Friday night's encounter as another typical a "Churchill-Franklin clash".

(as title contenders) we have to iron out a lot of problems.

Mientkiewicz also has been pleasantly surprised at the early performances of Trevor Smiley, an end switched to offensive guard — he checks in at 5-10, 165-pounds; running back Wayne Stephens, a 5-9, 165-pound quick-stepping junior; Jeff Burke, 6-0, 180-pound also a running back and tight end Joe Walker (6-1, 180).

and guard. He's 6-1, 170.

Two other tackles Michael Johnson (5-10, 200) and Lou Maney (6-3, 270) give the Spartans the bodies to improve on their record and maybe ...

"No, I don't think we can be considered a title threat," Mientkiewicz says. "Our offense remains a question mark. And we still have Melvindale, Annapolis and Crestwood in this league. Before we can even be considered the job or we're in trouble."

Spartans name new coach

Mientkiewicz also had nine other returning letterwinners. That group includes defensive back and fullback Matt Edwards (5-8, 160); wide receiver, defensive halfback Tony Ellis (6-1, 170); wingback and defensive back Dion Gipson (6-1, 180); tackle Mark Leskovic (5-10, 180) and Brian Hendricks, a center who also doubles as a tackle

'Bud' wears 'green jacket'

Charles "Bud" Lents of Lents Funeral Home won a "Green Jacket" at the Manistique Lakes Country Club in the Upper Peninsula.

Lents, who has a vacation home in the Upper Peninsula, has been an active member of the M.L.C.C. for the past several years, and this year came through the 8-week tournament with an average score of only one over par.

In addition to the Green Jacket — originally introduced by the Masters at Augusta — Lents won an engraved trophy and a cash award.

Son of Supersewer salvaged

It appears that quick action on the part of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and its Public Works Committee has saved some $28 million in federal funding for the North Huron/Rouge Valley sewer system.

Emergency meetings by both the board and committee recently were convened to authorize the agreement before an Aug. 17 deadline for the 75 percent federal funding for the $138 million project.

The deadline was jeopardized as the result of a requirement that the agreement be approved by the participating communities individually.

Also delaying the county approval was a lawsuit by Canton and Plymouth Townships, which sued to reinstate the original wastewater plan, commonly called "Supersewer," which included eight additional southern Wayne County communities.

Had the agreement not been approved by the Board of Commissioners by the Aug. 17 deadline, the federal funding would have dropped from 75 to 55 percent and local contributions would have increased from 25 to 45 percent.

The commissioners' approval apparently not only saved local communities like Wayne, Westland, Canton, Inkster, Romulus and Van Buren Township a sizeable chunk of money, but possibly the project itself, which could have been halted as the result of the increase in local contributions.

The original Supersewer plan, approved by the commissioners in 1983, was set aside for the current agreement, a compromise that received the endorsement of Gov. James Blanchard, Detroit Mayor Coleman Young and 11 of the 17 communities involved. Three of the participating communities — Novi, Wixom and Commerce Township — are located in Oakland County.

support that you have to us when we began our business. I am grateful and appreciative.
In the past 12 months, our company has purchased 4 vehicles from your dealership, totaling approximately $48,000.00. In November of 1983, we purchased a 1984 1-Ton, Dump Stake Rack at a purchase price of $20,000. The vehicle has 10,000 miles on it and, frankly, we have had lots more than the normal break-in problems usually experienced when a new vehicle is purchased. The following is a quick scenario explaining what we have gone through . . .

— The truck bed was improperly installed, causing damage to two tires which we replaced at our own expense. It took three trips to your Service Department before your people acknowledged that the improper installation had, in fact, caused the tire damage. We have never been reimbursed for the cost of the tires.

— The clutch was replaced very early on and as I write this letter, the vehicle, again, needs a new clutch.
— The exhaust system has literally fallen apart on seven different occasions and is in need of repair this moment.
— Our company purchased the referenced vehicle at your dealership; we sincerely believe that we should not be inconvenienced by your having to ship the vehicle to other dealers to secure repairs. This prolongs the time that the vehicle is not in our possession and, therefore, causes us financial losses.

I am sure that you can understand that having this truck on the road is crucial to the operation of our business. I am sure it is quite evident to you that I have been unduly burdened with repairs.

As an independent business owner, I am acutely aware of managing and providing leadership that results in pleasing the customer.
I really need your help. I would most appreciate anything that you can do to assure proper and timely repairs on this vehicle, on your premises, so that I can keep it on the road and not in your shop.
Again, I value our business and personal relationship and only wish to elicit your assistance in the dilemma I am presently facing.

Sincerely, SJ
RESOLUTION: Immediately upon receipt of this letter, the dealership called SJ and completed all needed repairs. In addition, SJ was reimbursed for the out of pocket expense on his tire replacement.

3A. Motion by Bergeron, supported by Lambert, to concur with the Romulus Economic Development Corp. to grant approval of the project plan for DST Industries, Inc. and adopt the following resolution:

RESOLUTION APPROVING PROJECT PLAN
DST INDUSTRIES, INC. PROJECT
WHEREAS: There exists in the City of Romulus the need for certain programs to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemployment and to revitalize the City's economy, and to assist industrial and commercial enterprises, and to encourage the location, expansion or retention of industrial and commercial enterprises to provide needed services and facilities to the City and its residents; and
WHEREAS: A program to alleviate the aforesaid conditions has been initiated by The Economic Development Corporation of the City of Romulus; and
WHEREAS: The Corporation in conformity with Act No. 338, Public Acts of Michigan, 1974, as amended, has prepared and submitted a project plan, providing all information and requirements necessary for an industrial project involving the facility to be owned by DST Industries, Inc., a Michigan corporation and operated by the Company for the benefit of the Company and located at 34364 Goddard Road, Romulus, Michigan; and
WHEREAS: In conformity with Act. No. 338 and the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, this legislative body has conducted a public hearing on the Project, the Project Plan, and the bonds in the maximum aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $1,000,000 proposed therein to be issued by the Corporation to finance all or part of the costs of the Project;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:
1. The Project Plan, as submitted and approved by the Corporation meets the requirements set forth in Section 8 of Act 338, and is hereby approved.
2. The persons who will be active in the management of the Project for not less than one year after approval of the Project Plan have sufficient ability and experience to manage the plan properly.
3. The proposed methods of financing the Project as outlined in the Project Plan are feasible and this Corporation has the ability to arrange, or cause to be arranged, the financing.
4. The Project as submitted is reasonable and necessary to carry out the purposes of Act No. 338, and is hereby approved.
5. Issuance by the Corporation of the Bonds in an amount not to exceed $1,000,000, in accordance with the terms set forth in the Project Plan, to finance all or part of the costs of the Project as described herein and in the Project Plan, is hereby approved.
6. Based upon the information submitted and obtained, the Project Plan as submitted and the Project to which it relates serves to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemployment and strengthen and revitalize the City's economy and, therefore, constitutes a vital and necessary public purpose.
7. All resolutions and part of resolutions insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this resolution be and the same hereby are rescinded.

Scrimger--Gordon exchange vows

One hundred-forty guests were in attendance for the recent spring wedding of Ellen Jean Scrimger of Brooklyn, New York, and Peter Gordon, also of Brooklyn.

Fresh lilacs decorated the Wayne Community Center, where the ceremony, officiated by Judge John Seiler, and reception were held.

The bride is the daughter of John and Marian Scrimger of Wayne, while the groom is the son of Howard and Sandy Gordon of Brooklyn, New York.

Handel's "Water Music" and Medelsohn's "Wedding March" were played during the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an antique 1920s' dress of white cotton, with front tucks, lace trim and a white straw hat trimmed with flowers and feathers. Her bouquet was of white and red roses and white silk stephanotis.

She asked her sister, Carol Scrimger of Wayne, to serve as her maid of honor. She wore a pink cotton dress, accented with lace inserts. Her headpiece was a lone pink rose, and her bouquet was made up of pink and white silk carnations.

Flower girl for the ceremony was Bridget and Gretchen Scrimger, nieces of the bride and the daughters of Roy and Cathy Scrimger of Crystal Falls, Michigan, and niece Theresa Scrimger, the daughter of Mark and Linda Scrimger of Parma, Michigan.

They wore pink, blue and yellow dotted swiss dresses. Their headpieces were flower wreaths and they carried baskets filled with flowers.

The groom asked David Gordon, his brother, to serve as his best man. The ushers were Steve Collier of Long Island, New York, and Joe Banno, also of Long Island.

Mrs. Scrimger chose a long sleeve royal blue crepe dress, with a gathered skirt and lace inserts on the sleeves. Mrs. Gordon wore a long-sleeved, tiered beige A-line dress. Both wore corsages of white sweetheart roses.

A buffet dinner for the newlyweds and their guests was served following the wedding ceremony. The wedding cake was the creation of Gerard Stve, cousin of the bride.

The couple is now living in Brooklyn, following a one-week honeymoon to London, England.

The new Mrs. Gordon is a 1977 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School and a 1981 graduate of Oberlin College, where she received her bachelor of arts degree in psychology. She currently is employed as the assistant director of development for the Roundabout Theatre in New York City.

Her husband is a 1980 graduate of Yale University, where he received his bachelor of arts degree in history, and a 1982 graduate of Carnegie-Mellon University, where he received a master of fine arts degree in directing. He is employed as a director of off and off-off Broadway plays in New York City.

Party honors Salas on 50th anniversary

The Saline home of Elliot and Jean Sala had a large crowd on hand Aug. 11 to help Emil and Emma Sala of Belleville celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

The Salas exchanged their wedding vows on Aug. 11 1934, at Evangelical Lutheran Church in Del Ray.

The party was hosted by their four sons, Eugene, Edward, Elliot and David, with guests coming from Dearborn, Ypsilanti, Romulus, Blissfield, Denton, St. Joseph, Hudson, Harrison, Saline, Chelsea, Ann Arbor, Wauseon, Ohio, and Kingston, Ontario.

Members of the original wedding party in attendance included Dorothy Ticknor of St. Joseph and Eleanor Pleva of Hudson.

Sala is a Ford Motor Company retiree, having worked for 42 years at the Flat Rock plant, the Willow Run Bomber plant and the Monroe plant. Mrs. Sala also is a Ford retiree, having worked 22 years at its Engineering Center.

Members of the United Methodist Church in Belleville, the Salas enjoy gardening and bowling. Mrs. Sala is active in the Kitchen Belles of Belleville, the Belleville Garden Club and the Belleville Book Club.

They have six grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Fall releases: So-so and not so so-so

Now that the film studios have gotten their "summer blockbusters" out of the way ("Ghostbusters," "Gremlins," "Star Trek III," "Indiana Jones," etc.) it's time for them to bring on the second string, so to speak.

Fall films tend not to be mindless bathing suit comedies more suited (so to speak . . .) for summer drive-in excursions, super special-effect movies more geared to kids (also summer), nor do they tend to be the ultra-serious film looking for an Academy Award, most of which are released in the winter.

No, fall films are somewhere in between, and sometimes, that no-man's land produces some of the year's best flicks.

Some of the films to be released in coming months are listed below.

"Razor's Edge" is one of the most eagerly awaited films of the season, featuring a very, very good Bill

Murray in a straight dramatic role; no pratfalls here, his performance (played in the original by Tyrone Powers) shows that he has acting talent that had been, to this point, untapped.

A bright looking comedy teams "Cheers" "Shelley Long with Ryan O'Neal, and throws in adorable Drew ("E.T.") Barrymore for good measure.

"Supergirl," the cousin of you-know-who, is a movie originally scheduled for early summer release, then mid-summer, and now fall release. Word has it that it isn't really worth waiting for anyway.

Steve Martin, whose last film was sadly underrated ("The Lonely Guy") teams up with Lily Tomlin, in what some insiders say may be an even bigger flop than Tomlin's "Incredible Shrinking Woman" (is it possible?!) titled "All of Me."

The always-wonderful Diane Keaton will be starring in the spy thriller, "The Little Drummer Girl," based on the book by noted author John Le Carre.

Howard E. Rollins ("Ragtime") leads an all-black cast in "A Soldiers Story," adapted from the Pulitzer prize-winning play of the same name. It chronicles social changes in Louisiana near the end of World War II.

David Puttman, the producer of "Chariots of Fire," has a new film. It's called "The Killing Fields," and is "an intensely personal story of friendship and survival amidst the survival of war." Some people are already saying "award" for this one.

If anyone deserves a sequel, I guess it would have to be God, right? And so it is that George Burns once again plays that biggest of big roles in "Oh God, You Devil." Alongside Burns will be Ted Wass, best known from the television show "Soap," he also made a very good showing for himself in the surprisingly good "Sheena," now playing.

There were plenty of ceremonies to declare the 1984 Montreux Detroit Kool Jazz Festival opening last Wednesday. Representatives of the Swiss government were on hand, as was William McCabe of Detroit Renaissance, charged with the task of coordinating the Labor Day weekend event. McCabe was joined by a representative of the Strohs Brewery Company to offer a toast to the 1984 festival and officially declare the event opening.

Family YMCA's Open House highlights discount

Residents in something free, will find it now through Sept. 15 at the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA.

The YMCA is offering free use of its facilities through Sept. 15 in celebration of a 15 percent discount being offered on memberships, culminating with an open house, chock full of class demonstrations, on the 15th.

Free open swimming hours during the campaign will be 1:45 to 2:30 p.m., 4 to 5 p.m., 7 to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday. Adult lap swimmers can enjoy the pool from 6 to 8:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. and 8:45 to 9:45 p.m. Monday through Friday and 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Handicapped, arthritis patients and senior citizens will have free use of the pool from 12:45 to 1:45 p.m. Monday through Friday, while family swimming will be available from 3 to 4 p.m. Saturday. Children must be accompanied by an adult for the latter session.

The YMCA's exercise room will be open from 6 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday. Children under 16 must be accompanied by an adult to use the exercise machines.

The open house will be from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Y, located at 827 S. Wayne Road, Westland. Free handbags, balloons, clowns, tours of the facility and demonstrations of such classes as body conditioning, dynamic aerobics, parent-tot swimming lessons, preschool swimming lessons and karate will be a part of the celebration that day.

New members will discover that as of Sept. 1 their YMCA membership is honored at 15 YMCA branches in the metropolitan Detroit area, making it easier to workout where you live or workout where you work.

The new program puts 19 gymnasiums, 21 exercise and weight rooms, six indoor running tracks, 13 swimming pools, 36 racquetball/handball courts and more at the disposal of Wayne-Westland members.

Also coming up for the YMCA is its fall class session, which will get underway the week of Sept. 17. A variety of programs in gymnastics, swimming, fitness, mild exercises, preschool, dance, soccer, flag football, parent-child activities and more are available.

For information on the discount program and the fall class lineup, contact the YMCA at 721-7044.

Fashionable Gala benefits Historical Museum

From garments of the day of Detroit's founding in 1701 to Bill Blass's contemporary "watermelon suit," the Detroit Historical Museum's garment collection is brimming with fashion history.

To help establish a fashion gallery at the museum, the Fashion Group of Detroit, Fairlane Town Center, and the Detroit Historical Society are sponsoring a gala evening and benefit fashion show from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. Sept. 15 at the Hyatt Regency Dearborn.

The highlight of the evening will be the modeling of designer gowns contributed by some of Michigan's most well known and glamorous women to the museum's fashion collection. The garments will be modeled by lookalikes of the contributors.

Honorary chairpersons for the event are Gov. James J. Blanchard, who has designated September "Fashion Month," his wife Paula and Lt. Gov.

Martha W. and Hicks Griffiths.

The museum currently has more than 50,000 garments reflecting the history of Detroit from its founding in 1701, said Lynda Cain, curator of the costume collection. The collection also includes the Blass suit and garments from other famous designers.

"To date we have been unable to display more than a few items at one time, because we simply do not have the proper display capabilities," Cain said. "Our goal is the establishment of a gallery which will include both permanent and revolving elements."

The Fashion Group last year established a fashion resource center at the museum which includes a range of reference materials. The gallery, which also will include a video presentation, will further enhance the museum as a source of fashion information for not only the casual observer but also those involved in or learning about the fashion industry.

Tickets for the evening are $50 and may be purchased by contacting the Fairlane Town Center from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at 593-3330.

The Fashion Group of Detroit is a chapter of the Fashion Group International comprised of 6,000 women executives in the fashion industry.

Cruisin' Detroit

The Westland Department On Aging will be sponsoring a cruise on the Star of Detroit for the first 39 seniors to sign up for the field trip, set for Oct. 13.

The trip will cost $38 and includes transportation, dinner, dancing from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on the Star of Detroit. The ship has an open deck as well as decks that are enclosed and air-conditioned.

Seniors will leave from the Friendship

Center, 3795 Marquette, at 5:30 p.m. for the Hart Plaza waterfront and return at approximately 10:30 p.m.

For further information call 722-7632.

Weed tackles variety of art styles

Westland artist Saudndra Weed has almost as many irons in the fire as colors on her palates these days.

Her creativity ranges from specializing in multi-media paintings using different mediums and textures to creating one-of-a-kind jewelry that varies in colors and shapes to writing a book that is easy to relate to for those interested in the "Dollars Sales and Sense" of marketing their art to communicating an interest in psychic development through special painting with accompanying poetry.

She also teaches art classes from her studio and for television, lectures to organizations and clubs and creates new ways of transporting paintings and tools.

She recently held an opening night at the Southfield Civic Center and is preparing for an opening gala, scheduled for Sept. 14 at the Main Street Place Gallery, located on Main Street between 11 Mile and Catalpa in Royal Oak.

That exhibit of art and jewelry will be at the gallery through Oct. 31.

Weed also will be teaching the techniques of experimental water color at the gallery.

First choice?

What's this? Is it possible that Geraldine Ferraro wasn't Walter Mondale's first choice to be his running mate? Is it possible that the presidential candidate's campaign trip to this area earlier in the year was merely a cover-up to try and woo Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally onto the ticket? Apparently, not, but both Democrats were happy about the chance to share philosophies.

MINUTES OF A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD HELD ON AUGUST 27, 1984

Special Meeting called to order by Supervisor Reeves at 4:00 p.m. with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Roll Call Showing: Present: Supervisor Reeves, and Trustees: Humphreys and Huziak Late: Clerk Banotai, Treasurer Hoffman and Trustee Bevins Absent: Trustee Morgan Also present: Members of the Oversight Committee: M. Krakowiak, L. Rise, C. Slayton, D. Welch, E. Stroud and G. Dienes. Also Bonding Consultant Joep Piell and Deputy Clerk Sienko and three interested citizens. Motion by Humphreys, supported by Huziak to accept the agenda. Motion carried unanimously.

Agenda 1. Pledge 2. Roll Call 3. Approval of Agenda 4. Joint meeting with Oversight Committee to discuss Bonding Issue 5. Adjournment The Board Members, members of the Oversight Committee and Mr. Piell discussed the present mill levied on the property tax and the need for it to be reduced. At the present time it can be reduced to 4 1/2 mills and still give the Township a substantial cushion for meeting the contractual payments. It was also noted that the amount collected over and above the need for meeting the contractual payments cannot be used to extend the water lines in the Township. This money can only be used to reduce the existing debt. Before December 22, 1978 (Headley Amendment), the Township could assess millage on property taxes, however, now all millage must be put before a vote of the people. The Township Board has until September 18, 1984 to prepare a resolution to be placed on the ballot for a $1,500,000 Bond Issue for a 10-mile water main extension. It was agreed to place the adopting of a resolution to reduce the present 6 mill on Water to 4.5 mill for the next tax year. Supervisor called for a motion to adjourn. Motion by Hoffman, supported by Humphreys to adjourn. Motion carried unanimously. Meeting adjourned at 5:02 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Louis P. Banotai, Clerk Certification I, Louis P. Banotai, Clerk of Sumpter Township, do hereby certify that the above is a true copy of the minutes taken at a Special Meeting of the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees, held on August 27, 1984 at 23480 Sumpter Road, Belleville, Michigan 48111.
